Montala wants you take a ride as we look back on a great year.

Montevallo High School had a lot of changes this year, but that didn't stop students from keeping up the school spirit. This was the first year that students could wear flip flops, had early homecoming, and saw many new faces! MHS had a wonderful year.

Community Service has been a new asset to Montevallo High School since 2003.

Students were asked to complete five hours and a project describing the service they provided. Many students participated in the first Montevallo High School Rock-A-Thon. This service benefited the Hurricane Katrina relief efforts. Other students coached cheerleading squads, helped neighbors, and worked around the school.

These services helped many people.

School Spirit

Many students at Montevallo High School attend a lot of school activities to show how they express themselves. A couple of these include pep rallies and homecoming events.

The students at Montevallo High School had a very fun-filled year.

The Montevallo High School girls volleyball team show their school spirit by wearing orange and blue during the homecoming parade. GO DAWGS!

This past year, the high school had many changes in the Homecoming activities. Homecoming Week consisted of the penny count, canned food drive, dress up days, and class walls. The Homecoming Game was on September 2, 2005. Even though Tarrant out numbered the Bulldogs, they still put up a fight. Homecoming Week left many memories at MHS.

The Bulldogs of 2005-2006 worked hard last year as a team to improve their season. Leading the team were seniors Douggee Farrington, Willie Sullens, Brian Fulgham, Patrick Gilmore, Gendall Bean, and Justin Foster. Freshmen Alex Gaddis stepped up to fill the point guard position. In the end the Dawgs finished with a 9 and 16 record.

The Lady Dawgs played their best basketball last year. The Lady Dawgs went undefeated in their area for the second year in a row. After losing five seniors, no one expected the girls would make it as far. However, with seniors Kaivonna Towner, Lakisha Brown, and Sarah Gothard, as well as guidance with good sportsmanship and leadership, the girls did just as well. Everyone contributed, from the youngest freshmen, to the book keeper. The girls were unstoppable and went beyond the boundaries!

The Varsity Cheerleaders had an outstanding season last year. After tryouts, the new squad had to face an upsetting loss of former sponsor Nan Franks. However, Mrs. Kelli Davis stepped up to take on the role as the Varsity cheerleading sponsor.

The girls started the year off by attending UCA Cheer Camp in June. There, they received all superior ribbons and a spirit stick. They were also named the Camp Champ First Place Home Pom winners. After the summer break, all members began practice for the football season. Immediately after football, the girls jumped right into basketball season. The Varsity Cheerleaders had an excellent year being the spirit of Montevallo High School.

MHS Spotlight had a very active year. Every few months a new edition of the newspaper was published. Topics found throughout the paper included new teachers, events within the school, and sports articles. Even though the newspaper itself remained traditional, the staff gained a new sponsor; Ms. Claudiette Coleman. The Spotlight and staff members had an excellent year!

MHS NEWS

Once again, MHS News had a wonderful year. They produced one broadcast each week consisting of various scripts, reports, weekly polls, weather reports, and sports reports. Scripts and reports focused on student topics, recent faculty additions, and controversial subject matter. The Mass Comm program sponsored the annual Day of Pageants which was a huge fundraiser for the department. This was a very successful year!

Glenn,

I have watched you grow from a small, sweet, little boy to a fine, wonderful, young man. I miss the days when you could put a bandaid over your scratches and make them all better. However, I'm proud to see you are maturing in to a young man. I know you will have many accomplishments in life. Just let your mind and your heart lead you and you'll never go wrong. Thank you for staying strong in your beliefs and for the love you show for your family.

Congratulations!
